Pre-health students: have you considered Athletic Training?

What is athletic training?

Athletic trainers work to prevent, recognize, and evaluate injuries in athletes of all types and skill levels. They also work with a healthcare team to provide support and a plan for rehabilitation after an injury.

Who do athletic trainers work with?

Athletic trainers work with a variety of ages, abilities, and types of physical activities. They work with any age and skill level. They work with athletes in areas such as:

- professional sports teams
- military & soldiers
- dancers & performing artists
- middle, secondary, and post-secondary athletics
- hospitals

Truman State University's Master of Athletic Training Program is accepting applications for fall 2018.

Meet with a pre-health advisor or the pre-health coordinator:

If you are in your second year at Truman AND majoring in Biology, Chemistry, Exercise Science, or Health Science:

- You should meet with the designated pre-health advisor in your major. Depending on the department, some major advisors have a specific pre-health profession and some are versed in multiple pre-health professions.

If you are a first-year student OR a first-semester transfer OR are majoring in anything other than Biology, Chemistry, Exercise Science, or Health Science:

- You should meet with Brittany Harden to help guide your preparation for health professions school. You may call 660-785-7403 or stop by the advising reception desk in Kirk Building 107 (Monday-Friday 8am-5pm) to make an appointment.
